DAWES IN ATTACK ON SENATE RULES

TOO GREAT POWER FOR BLOCKING SENATE ACTION

FILIBUSTER OUTGROWTH OF IRRESPONSIBILITY

Vice-President Tells Boston Audience He Is In For a Finish Fight Against Use of Rules For Barter—Crowd Cheers.

Boston.—In the presence of a thousand of "the solid men of Boston"—as the old rhyme begins—Vice-President Dawes waded into the United States senate's rules again and in thirty seconds he had his hearers yelling their delight and approbation.

And in three minutes he had them on their feet shouting their allegiance to him in the fight which he promised them he is going to keep before the country as long as he is vice-president of the United States and president of the senate.

"Now," he said, "whenever I want to get down to the vernacular, as I'm inclined to do, I have to remember my office. But I'm going to say something just the same, and I'm going to say it because Senator William M. Butler is here.

"I see before me representatives not alone of Massachusetts, but of all New England, and I say to you that unless I can serve as a conduit for the pressure of public opinion on the United States senate I can't do anything.

"Reform of senate rules involves some of the principles for which our ancestors fought. Did they have in their minds any idea that any one of ninety-six senators could exercise a veto power greater than that of the president of the United States?

"Did they have any idea that when laws might have the concurrent action of two houses and, again, the confirmation of the supreme court—did they have any idea that in the hands of one senator there would ever be power to block that action and opportunity to use that power as barter in the matter of legislation in which the senator might be personally interested?

"That power has been built up on irresponsibility. That power has been built up, not by law, not by the constitution, but by senate rules.

"Now, I want, Senator Butler, to know how you feel about it. As many of you as think it ought to be changed, get up!"

"Get up!" came like a pistol shot.

Then he reached over from his place at the high banquet table in the new palace of the Boston Chamber of Commerce on historic Milk street and he hauled a United States senator to his feet—ponderous William Morgan Butler, Henry Cabot Lodge's successor—and he made him pledge himself up to the hilt to some of the most important men in Massachusetts that he would work for a reform of the senate's rules.

The gist of General Dawes' speech was that all he said about the senate on the day he was inaugurated vice-president now goes double and that he is going to keep on saying it.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OFFICES RETURN TO SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco.—The retirement of Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors and executive committee of the Southern Pacific, on May 31, will result in the return of the executive offices of the railroad to San Francisco. While Kruttschnitt will be succeeded as chairman of the executive committee and board of directors by Henry W. Deforest, financial director of the railroad, the actual supervision of the road's operations, heretofore exercised by the chairman, will be passed on to William Sproule, president, and Sproule will maintain his offices here.

The financial headquarters of the company will remain in New York, Deforest remaining in charge of financial affairs in his capacity as executive committee chairman.

U. S. GOVERNMENT BEGINS SUIT AGAINST STEEL CORPORATION

Philadelphia.—Charging that Charles M. Schwab, acting in the dual capacity of director general of the United States Fleet corporation and head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporations, favored the Bethlehem interests in awarded war ship building contracts, the government has started suit against Schwab's corporation and four subsidiaries for return of alleged over payments amounting to $15,000,000.

The alleged over-payments were above the 10 per cent profit which the government allowed contractors on war work, it is asserted in the suit.

SUPREME COURT HITS SCOFFLAWS

MANY PROMINENT CASES INVOLVED IN LATEST RULING

LIQUOR LAW BREAKERS' APPEALS ARE DENIED

Decisions Against Culprits Upheld in All Instances—Automobiles May Be Searched Without Warrant—Two Brewery Cases Reviewed.

Washington.—The firm attitude of the United States supreme court toward liquor law violators was manifested in an unusual number of cases involving appeals from convictions under the prohibition law.

In every decision handed down, the court upheld convictions in lower courts and again reaffirmed its decision that automobiles may be searched and liquor confiscated without the presence of a search warrant.

Among the convictions upheld were those of Mayor Roswell O. Johnson and other city officials of Gary, Ind., who were sentenced to prison in the cleanup of the northern Indiana city some months ago.

They had appealed their cases to the court on the ground they were convicted by insufficient evidence and by "inflammatory newspaper articles which created inimical public sentiment against them."

In two cases the court upheld the conviction and punishment of manufacturing establishments, the Guggenheimer Distilling company of Pittsburg and the Keystone Brewing company of Lackawanna county, Pa.

In the Guggenheimer case the sentences of Lewis Brown and Louis Farkas to two years in prison and fines of $10,000 each, were affirmed.

Two ex-prohibition agents in Jersey City, John F. Downs and Terry Davis convicted in lower courts of accepting bribes for protecting liquor law violators, also were beneficiaries of the court's severity in liquor law cases. Their convictions and sentences were upheld.

In a case from Nashville, Tenn., wherein J. H. Mosely was convicted of transporting liquor and appealed his case on the ground that the search was illegal, the court decided against him and upheld the officers.

MEXICO AND RUSSIA DECLINE PARTICIPATION IN PARLEY

Geneva.—A sharply worded note from Mexico, which the league of nations officials refused to publish, and a caustic communication from Russia, in which both countries refuse to come to Geneva, give special advance publicity to next month's conference on control of traffic in arms. A telegram from George Tchitcherin, the soviet foreign minister, made it clear that the soviet government would have no extended relations with the league of nations until it is reorganized to suit soviet ideas. Mexico's refusal is understood to be due to resentment over the fact that she was not invited to be an original member of the league.

There is tendency here to contrast Russia's hostility to the conference with the willingness of the United States to participate, although that country is not a member of the league of nations.

Midwinter Conditions in East

New York.—The violent rain and snow storm throughout the east are estimated to have caused property damage of $1,500,000. Midwinter conditions prevailed in parts of upper New York state and New England. Along the Canadian border from two to sixteen inches of snow fell, and Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont were partially snowbound, with communication cut off in many places by gales that accompanied the storm. The western part of Pennsylvania was hard hit, the damage in Pittsburg being estimated at $800,000. Crops were reported damaged in parts of the state.

Honolulu Welcomes Flagship

Honolulu.—The U. S. S. Seattle, carrying the highest ranking officers of the United States army and navy, and which is normally flagship of the grand fleet, received a picturesque welcome as she steamed into Honolulu harbor. Naval vessels from the Pearl Harbor base, together with the lighthouse tender Kukui carrying an official welcoming party, steamed out of the harbor and circled the warship.

A PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America.

In proclaiming American Forest Week, I desire to bring to the attention of all our people the danger that comes from the neglect of our forests.

For several years the Nation has observed Forest Protection Week. It is fitting that this observance be enlarged. We have too freely spent the rich and magnifiecent gift that nature bestowed on us. In our eagerness to use that gift we have stripped our forests; we have permitted fires to lay waste and devour them; we have all too often destroyed the young growth and the seed from which new forests might spring. And though we already feel the first grip of timber shortage, we have barely begun to save and restore.

We have passed the pioneer stage and are no longer excusable for continuing this unwise dissipation of a great resource. To the Nation it means the lack of an elemental necessity and the waste of keeping idle or only partly productive nearly one-fourth of our soil. To our forest-using industries it means unstable investments, the depletion of forest capital, the disbanding of established enterprises, and the decline of one of our most important industrial groups.

Our forests ought to be put to work and kept at work. I do not minimize the obstacles that have to be met, nor the difficulty of changing old ideas and practices. We must all put our hands to this common task. It is not enough that the Federal, State, and local governments take the lead. There must be a change in our national attitude. Our industries, our landowners, our farmers, all our citizens must learn to treat our forests as crops to be used but also to be renewed. We must learn to tend our woodlands as carefully as we tend our farms.

Let us apply to this creative task the boundless energy and skill we have so long spent in harvesting the free gifts of nature. The forest of the future must be started to-day. Our children are dependent on our course. We are bound by a solemn obligation from which no evasion and no subterfuge will relieve us. Unless we use with gratiude and with restraint the generous and kindly gifts of Divine Providence, we shall prove ourselves unworthy guardians of a heritage we hold in trust.

Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do recommend to the Governors of the various States to designate and set apart the week of April 27-May 3, inclusive, 1925, as American Forest Week, and, wherever practicable and not in conflict with State law or accepted customs, to celebrate Arbor Day within that week. And I urge public officials, public and business associations, industrial leaders, forest owners, editors, educators, and all patriotic citizens to unite in the common task of forest conservation and renewal.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-fist day of February in the year our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-ninth.

(Seal)

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

By the President:
Charles E. Hughes
Secretary of State.

HI ATHLETES IN TOURNAMENTS

Mary Feathers and Esther Lynn captured the first doubles 6-3: 1-6: 6-2, while Edith Heiby and Francis Nichols lost second doubles 6-4: 8-6.

Miss Jenkins as coach has developed a number of good players and altho several of the team players were unable to meet the visitors, our team made a very creditable showing. The next tournament will be played by our girls at Santa Clara Friday, May 1.

The Campbell high school ball team defeated Morgan Hill 18 to 1 Tuesday at Campbell and will take on the Montezuma boys here this afternoon which promises some real excitement. The feature of Tuesday's game was two home runs and a three sacker to Osie Kalas' credit.

Santa Clara will be played in a final game some day next week.

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN AT CLUB

A most delightful program was given Monday afternoon at the meeting of the Country Woman's Club, with Mrs. E. I. Price in charge. Other members of her committee were unable to serve for various reasons and the program as outlined was changed. As Mrs. Price worded it, instead of the activities of our government it was the activities of Americans.

Miss Helen Kalas sang two charming groups of songs, the first were English and German selections and the closing ones were five short Hungarian folk songs. The singer very graciously interpreted the latter before singing them which added greatly to their effect. Mrs. Robson presided at the piano.

Miss Alice Duncan gave a fascinating account of her European trip last summer, enhancing the recital by wearing a beautiful lace dress bought in Italy.

The business hour was spent in discussion and explanation of plans for the coming May Festival.

MRS. PAYNE HOSTESS

The Moreland Good Will Club met last week with Mrs. George Payne. Owing to the illness of the president, the Vice President, Mrs. Anderson, presided.

Seven visitors besides the members enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess.

Mrs. Frederick Curtis, President of the County Federation of Women's Clubs, gava a very interesting report of the work being accomplished by various clubs she had visited, and of To Kalon Club, of which she is a member.

Mrs. Jessie Sheperd, who is a guest of Mrs. H. P. Bean, described club work in her home state of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Zettle reported her visit to the U. S. fleet and her inspection of the "California."

Very delightful piano numbers were given by Mrs. Ford, of Los Gatos and vocal solos by Mrs. L. G. Case.

On April 29 the club will journey to Morgan Hill for one of its pleasant all day sessions at the home of Mrs. Mark Smith.

Court Absolves Crown Prince

Johnson Party Leaves Balboa

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson left isthmian waters, April 20, on board the yacht Kemah. The vessel will proceed to San Francisco.

J. U. HIGINBOTHAM MAY FESTIVAL FEATURE

Some question has arisen over the coming May Festival which the Country Woman's Club will conduct next week, May 1 and 2. Last year the same event was designated "Rose Festival" and that name can and is being used for this, but as May Day was the date chosen this year, it seemed very fitting to call it a May Festival. As the High School has not used that term for several years but refers to its May Musical as "the operetta", there was no thought of the events being confused.

The fete will include Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon and evening.

The entertainment Friday evening is being anticipated as one of real amusement. Mr. Higinbotham is a rare humorist and has made a very happy impression upon his two previous appearances in Campbell. Tickets are on sale by all the members for the small sum of thirty-five cents.

The beauties of the decorations and booths will be at their best and candy and plants will be for sale.

The food booth will be open Saturday and there will be a very choice assortment of culinary products. The committee in charge would most sincerely appreciate and contributions for this sale from any who are interested in the upkeep of our lovely library and grounds.

A slight change has been made in the plans for Saturday afternoon. The admission charge has been set at fifteen cents which entitles one to attend the program. This will be given more fully next week but one of the features which alone would be worth 15 cents will be an illustrated lecture by Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Bogen on "Landscape Gardening." There will be good music, readings and other numbers. The program will be in the auditorium of the Annex at 3 o'clock. Remember the hour. Inexpensive refreshments will be sold to all who desire.

For those who prefer to enjoy mah jongg or cards, tables will be attractively arranged in the corridors so as not to intertere with the program.

Saturday evening there will be cards and mah jongg at the social hall of the library at fifty cents per person. It is desirable to make reservations so that arrangements may be complete. Phone Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy, Saratoga or Mrs. Leigh Saunders or Mrs. E. I. Price, Campbell.

Let every one be enthusiastic for this community event and help make it a social and financial success

P T A PARTY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The card and mah jongg party held Friday evening under the auspices of the Campbell Union Grammar School P. T. A. was a very decided success from the social standpoint and added to the treasury altho not as much as had been anticipated. However if the club sponsors other parties in the future there will be plenty to speak a good word for them, as those present all spent a jolly evening.

A number of pieces of fancy work, food and other articles had been donated by the members so that several prizes were awarded.

While the scores were being listed and refreshments prepared Ray Thomas, of Union District, who has favored Campbell audiences upon several occasions, played two saxaphone solos that were enthusiastically received and H. C. Smith sang two numbers.

The cafeteria of the school which was utilized for the occasion, was most artistically decorated with a profusion of flowers enhancing a room already beautiful with its new hangings.

PROBLEMS OF THE YEARS

The two major problems now facing the national administration are the tax reduction program and the coming conferenec for the limitation of armaments. It is to be hoped, however, that other great internal tasks will not be overlooked; among which are the reclamation of millions of acres in the west yet untouched for want of water, the preservation of our forests, marketing helps for the products of the soil, and the conservation and development of water power.

Any one of those great problems would tax the capacities of any administration this country ever had. These are not problems of one day nor of one year, but it is for succeeding administration to put forward some measures that will further these great works of national economy.

THE PATH OF DESTRUCTION

Th sympathy of our nation and of those nations across the seas goes out for the sufferers in the tornado's path of destruction which makes history for southern Illinois, southern Indiana and neighboring states. But that history will be a sad one, for many sad hearts are left to remember the shattering wrecks of homes, relatives and friends, lost in the mighty rush of the furious wind that plays havoc at will.

This disaster should not in any sense mitigate against the particular section visited by the tornado. Air currents are everywhere, and no section of the country is immune from some destructive phenomena of the elements. To help those who suffer, to aid, either materially or with moral support, the rebuilding of the devastated area, should be the aim of every true American.

NOW FOR SOME ACTION

For some time San Jose has been making somewhat of a joke of the anti-garbage dumping campaign, rather slightingly remarking on the Campbell crusade. Time and again Campbell was mentioned in connection with the clean-up. Recently someone informed San Joseans that as a matter of fact this garbage nuisance was at their very side door. Now it is a song of a different strain and doubtless the nuisance will be soon abated much to the relief of those living in the immediate vicinity of the old brick yard.

DO YOU KNOW?
The City Fathers ponder
Within the City Hall.
The Garbage Question bothers them—
A problem far from small;—
For where, in former seasons,
So meekly, two or three
Would come to voice a protest
And trembling make a plea;—

There were a thousand voices
Declaiming loud and long;—
"We will not have that garbage here
The odor is too strong."
Too many rats are feeding
Upon the garbage pile,
Too many flies are spreading
Their poison mile on mile."

The City Fathers ponder
The cannery people too,
And eke the Brickyard owners
Who love the revenue.
But all the country people
Whose nostrils are assailed,
Combine to fight the nuisance
Gainst which so long they quailed.

Now who will win, I wonder
It is a bitter fight.
My prayers are for the people
A fighting for their right.
But arrayed in force against them
Is many a sturdy foe
Who love the easy money,
Their power well we know.
Now farmers, march on bravely,
For if ye fail, ye know
The pestilence will raid ye,
And ye shall walk in woe.
I pray ye, do not falter,
But sternly march along
To fight for health and homeland
To right a bitter wrong.

National Officer Visits California

Miss Rebecca Naomi Rhoads of Washington, D. C., director of work among soldiers andsailors for the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union,, reached San Francisco Saturday, April 18. Miss Rhoads has been sent out by the War Department to visit the army posts, naval stations and camps in fifteen states, of which California is one. Last year Miss Rhoads visited the posts in fourteen eastern states.

Miss Rhoads experience as an overseas worker during the war, coupled with the fine message she brings, win the response of the men she addresses so completely that friendly words and letters of commendation from commanding officers followher visits. Miss Rhoads will be accompanied in her visits to the posts in Northern California by the State director of work among soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Beatrice Coggins of San Francisco.

More than 900,000 California-raised sheep will be marketed in the east between March 15 and June 15, says an announcement from the California Wool Growers' association, which also states that the state's wool crop this year is the biggest in the history of the state and is valued at $18,000,000. California lambs will be the first on the eastern markets, due to the co-operation of the Southern Pacific company.

Miss Kate Potwin, veteran railroad woman of California, has been retired on pension by the Southern Pacific. In her forty-two years service, which started as student operator at Martinez, in 1882, she has served that system as telegraph operator, ticket clerk, cashier, station agent and in various other capacities. For thirty-two years she was agent at the Sixteenth street station in Oakland.

R. A. Boggess, organizer of the Alpha Quicksilver Mining company of Lake county, was convicted in superior court at Sacramento for declaring to false profits of the concern in making his application, that over a period of three years they were $7,000 a month. This, it is claimed, was proven untrue. The conviction is the first of its kind of record under the "blue sky" law.

An Episode in Spaghetti

"I'll take," said the lady, "about twenty-five cents worth of spaghetti."

"That's good, we have the finest spaghetti and macaroni in this town or in any town. It's real semolina, made from a special grade of wheat."

The lady released a condescending smile. "By the time I get it doped up you won't know what it is. It won't even know itself."

A week later: "Well, I'll take some more of that good spaghetti, or semolina, or whatever you call it."

"Did the spaghetti know itself?"

She laughed. "Yes, it preserved its identity, in spite of all the different things I added to it."

And that is the point, the better cook you are the more you'll appreciate good materials in the foundation of your dish. In spaghetti, macaroni, salad macaroni or elbows, specify semolina. The price is 15c a pound. Buy it at Blaine's.

EDUCATION WEEK

Conforming to a recently established custom among the several lodges of the Masonic Fraternity, comprising the Grand Lodge of California, the local lodge will hold a program in the Grammar School Auditorium on the evening of May 11. Co-operating with the lodge will be the P. T. A. and the local churches.

The whole thought is, to put before the public and especially the taxpayers and those having families who are being educated through the public school system, the necessity of education, and also to explain in easily understood terms, what the cost of education is, and what results are being obtained from the expenditure of such sums of money. Are we getting value received for the money expended, is one of the vital questions.

An interesting and well informed speaker will address the people, there will be a program of music and also the school band will entertain. This latter organization surely demonstrates in a very practical manner what the school is doing along that particular line.

There is probably no question in the public eye today which needs more careful thought and explanation, than that of the public school system and what it means to America, and for that reason this and other meetings are being held all over our State, to enlighten the public on this most vital question. It is therefore hoped that each and everyone directly or indirectly interested in educational matters will make an extra effort to come out on May 11, and enter into the meeting with earnest and sincere thought, on this American problem.

Watch the papers for more detailed account of the meeting and be sure and reserve the date, May 11, 1925 at 8 P. M.

He says "Hal" is the same modest, unassuming young man that he was when playing third base with the old Campbell Athletics of 1915-16, and a wonderful host, as well as a brilliant ball player.

PIRATES IN CAMPBELL?

Yes, Even in the School!

On the fifteenth of May an avalanche of bad, black-hearted pirates—love pirates— will descend upon the ordinarily quiet town of Campbell, making love not only to the school girls, but captivating a prim old-maid teacher by the novelty of practical wooing.

She first, however, makes them useful citizens by frightening them into becoming cooks, in which situation they are forced to remain until they—and the residents of the school—are rescued by a pretended pirate and the United States militia.

Those who wish to learn more of the matter may do so by attending the operetta "Love Pirates of Hawaii" to be given in the auditorium of the Campbell School the evening of May fifteenth.

Officer Gets Quick Retort

City Marshal Baird is a man who very seldom is "stumped" for a reply to any remark made by those with whom he comes into contact. However, he acknowledges that he failed to find a ready answer to a young man who was hurrying through the city the other day. The man in question was driving a machine with one hand and embracing a young woman with his other arm. Shouted Baird: "Say, why don't you use both hands?" "I would like to—but can't let go the wheel."

Announcing the beginning of California's quota of $400,000 in the $5,000,000 undertaking, State Commander Coombs said: "The American Legion is raising a national fund to insure rehabilitation to every disabled veteran and provide homes for the children of men whose lives the war cost. The principal of the endowment fund is not to be touched. The income will be used exclusively for the extension of the legion rehabilitation work and for the legion program of child welfare. I feel sure that California will respond in the way that she has to every great humanitarian endeavor of the past."

A slight improvement is reported in the industrial and employment situation in the state, although a surplus of labor continues to exist, according to the report of the employment service of the department of labor. Operations in manufacturing plants in the San Francisco industrial area, including all the bay cities, are slightly below normal. All plants are running, except a large flour mill in Vallejo and a rice milling plant in South San Francisco, which has been closed for repairs. Richmond industry is reported exceptionally brisk. A surplus of common and skilled labor is apparent, except bricklayers, of whom there is a shortage. Some calls for farm help are reported. A large surplus of labor is reported in the Los Angeles district, with the building industry showing a little improvement. A small demand for orange pickers existed in Butte county and spring work was opening up in Madera county. The report notes an improvement in the state's lumber industry and predicts that, while there was an over supply of workers, these would be absorbed by the middle of March. Activities in oil refining and drilling have lessened and there has been a curtailment in the railroad shops. A surplus of mine workers was reported.

The state board of health made public the results of an occupational survey of "white plague" victims which places laborers at the top of the list and office men in ninth place. Of 2,691 persons committed to hospitals subsidized by the state during the past two years, 406 were men who earned their livlihood by hard physical labor, many of whom were engaged in out-of-door work, the report showed. Only fifty-one office men were committed during the period. Next to laborers, persons engaged in housework lead in susceptibility to the dreaded disease. School children also fall easy prey to tuberculosis, girls leading with 149 commitments and boys following with 93. Store clerks and miners are equally susceptible to the disease, eighty-three patients being reported from each occupation. Professional men, newspapermen, railroadmen insurance and real estate dealers and mechanics make up a small percentage.
